

Properties purchased through the FRAP Program must be located within one of the ten targeted Census Tracts in Prince William County: 9002, 9004, 9006, 9007, 9008, 9009, 9012, 9015, 9016, 9017, County Census Tract Map. Click on the Census Tract links on the Web page and use the Zoom feature in Adobe to view street and neighborhood names.

The Prince William County Mapper located at <http://www4.pwcgov.org/countymapper> can be used to determine Census Tract location for a specific property address. Click “I Agree” to the user information page. The County Mapper main page will appear. Use the Map Legend to the left, scroll down to the Census Tract and check “Visible”, “Active” and “Label”, then click “Apply Changes” at the top left of the legend. This will bring the Census Tracts visible on the map. The drop down box on the right of the screen provides many search options, including search by specific address, search by Census Tract. When specific addresses are searched, you will also have the option to link to the County’s Real Estate Assessment record of the property which provides information about ownership, property assessment, and property transfer.

A Census Tract may be broken into block groups such as 900403, 900404, 900901, 900902. The first four digits are the Census Tract areas, the last two digits indicate block groups within the Census Tract. All block groups within the targeted Census Tracts are eligible areas for FRAP purchase.
