FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Police Conduct Drug Search at Youth for Tomorrow

PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY, VIRGINIA . . . The Prince William County Police Department conducted a search of a school facility today to ensure student safety. This random search is part of an ongoing effort by the Department, and the private school's administrators, to see that schools remain safe, drug-free environments for students and employees.

Officers and drug-detection dogs searched Youth for Tomorrow, 10105 Linton Hall Road in Bristow. No drugs were located at the facility.

Police Chief Charlie T. Deane has said that it "is important to send a strong message that drugs in the school will not be tolerated. We hope that these searches will deter people from bringing drugs to school."

School Resource Officers – County police permanently assigned to middle- and high schools – coordinated the effort.
