Criteria for the Awards

Candidates for the Human Rights Awards must be a Prince William County resident. The Awards honor outstanding contributions that have promoted the equality for all people in Prince William County, demonstrated by leadership and excellence in any field, in either a paid or unpaid capacity. Candidates - whose effectiveness and courage have advanced the cause of equality for all people of all ages in significant and substantial ways that have enriched our community - will be considered. For example, they may have identified needs for change and found innovative solutions in sectors relating to all people; lobbied for groups and services; initiated public education and information activities; or through their lives, made outstanding creative achievements or otherwise advanced equality for all people.

Five awards are given annually to candidates chosen from across Prince William County, in addition to one Youth award.

Nomination Procedure

Nominations for the Human Rights Awards may be submitted by individuals, schools, community and business groups and others. Nomination forms and complete Awards eligibility criteria are available from our office information listed above. Nomination forms and eligibility criteria are also available on our website. www.pwcgov.org/hmnrghs/default.htm

It is important to provide all of the information asked for on the Nomination Form, and include the achievements the candidate has undertaken with respect to improving equality for all people in Prince William County.

Nomination forms should be faxed or post-marked no later than November 23 annually, to the address listed above.
